

Gilbane

I want to let you and my safety manager, Dennis Mullen, know how much I and other members of the Gilbane Citizens Refresh Project appreciate Heroica's Painting Company commitment to safety, not only on the job site but also on the travel home from 2nd shift tonight. I was traveling on 95 south after 1 am when your foreman Joshua called me to alert me to the dangerous road condition on 95 south just after 495 into Providence. The road had iced up and cars littered the side of the highway. Barney Kavanagh (Gilbane Superintendent) also alerted me just after Joshua. It is good to know that Heroica's culture of caring is in alignment with Gilbane's in that it extend beyond the job site. I was able to alert Jason Agresti (Gilbane Superintendent) and we both slowed down as other cars flew by us only to come to a quick slow down where a tractor trailer, cars and emergency vehicles were scattered.

Your workers have been great to work with and I was not surprised your men cared enough to call me. It was a crazy ride home but was able to get home a little slower but safely. Look forward to finishing this project strong and safe and work with your crew again. Now I can see why Dave Bird wanted your company to be part of project team.

We wanted to take this time to thank you for the excellent work that Heroica's Painting did at both the University of Rhode Island, Dorm Renovation Project and the Rhode Island College, Fogarty Science Lab Project. Your firm was professional and reliable, two qualities that are key to working in a fast paced, high stress environment. In addition, the quality of work that Heroica's Painting, Inc. performed was excellent and job site cleanliness was of the highest caliber. Please feel free to use us as a reference anytime. We are very much looking forward to working with you again.
